A world of polymers

Certain matters discussed in this presentation are “forward-looking statements” intended to qualify for the safe harbors from liability established by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. In particular, the Company’s statements regarding trends in the marketplace and potential future results are examples of such forward-looking statements. The forward-looking statements include risks and uncertainties, including, but not limited to, restrictions imposed by the Company’s outstanding indebtedness, changes in the cost and availability of polymers, demand for the Company’s services and products, business cycles and other industry conditions, the Company’s ability to manage inventory and to develop technology and proprietary know-how, the Company’s lack of asset diversification, its ability to attract and retain key personnel, litigation risks, international risks, operational risks, and other factors detailed in the Company’s form 10-K for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2006. The factors discussed herein and expressed from time to time in the Company’s filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission could cause actual results and developments to be materially different from those expressed in or implied by such statements. The forward-looking statements are made only as of the date of this presentation, and the Company undertakes no obligation to publicly update such forward-looking statements to reflect subsequent events or circumstances.
